

View of Constantinople and the Golden Horn. The Turks have held the city since 1453. Henceforth the Christian Powers will at least share in its control.
Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Funeral procession of victims of the wreck of the troopship Otranto, which sank after a collision off the coast of Ireland. More than 300 American soldiers lost their lives in the disaster. Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.

German prisoners on their way to the cages passing through the ruined village of Villers Bretonneux.
Photo, French Pictorial.

First portrait showing Victor Herbert, the composer, in his uniform as Lieutenant.
Copyright, Press Illustrating Service.

Men who will decide the fate of the German navy: Naval chiefs of the Allies at Versailles. Sitting at the left is Admiral Sims, U. S. N., and in the centre Vice-Admiral Sir Roslyn Wemyss of the British navy.
Photo, French Pictorial.

Ensign M. L. Lequin of East Orange, first line officer to die on the Leviathan.